Welcome to your Summer edition of @ClaphamPark

Summer has arrived, and it is wonderful to see people's faces again at in-person community events and activities. With the summer programme back on this year, we are excited to once again be able to offer our younger residents a great range of workshops, day trips and activities through the holidays.

As we look forward to enjoying a warm summer (at last!), this edition includes lots on our thriving creative community and local growers, employment and training opportunities, and useful local resources and contacts. We also have our first ever spotlight on a brilliant local business, which we hope you will enjoy reading about and might even pay them a visit!

We hope you enjoy this issue, and please remember this is your magazine, so if there's something you'd like to see in the next one, get in touch with Avril, details below.

'POSTCARDS ACROSS THE RIVER' AN EMBROIDERY EXCHANGE BETWEEN CLAPHAM AND NEWHAM

This past year of Covid-19 lockdowns, 'bubbles' and isolation has changed the way we interact with people. We've relied on texting, zooming, sending each other things in the post, waving from a distance. Meeting new friends has been impossible, never mind seeing our old friends. As we emerge out of lockdowns, we want to rediscover the joy of making new friends, of sharing our experiences and learning from each other's cultures.

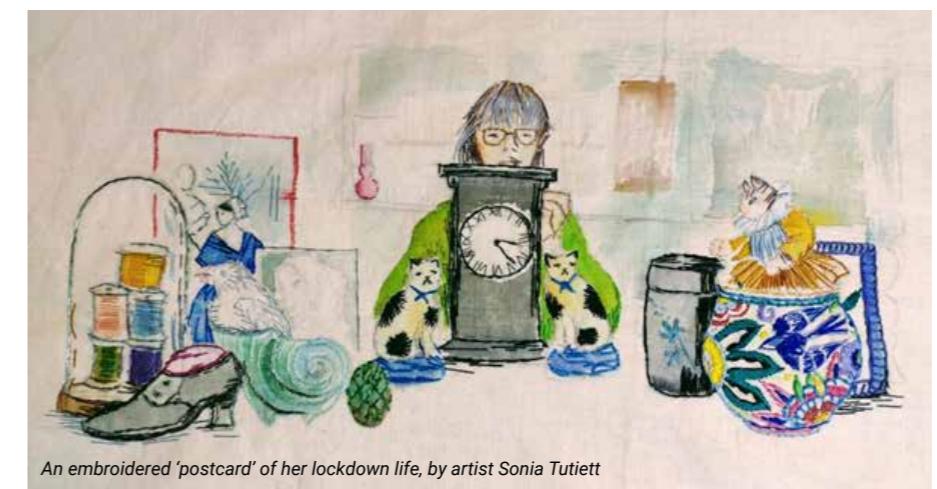

Clapham Park Creative has partnered with East London Textile Arts in an embroidery project connecting our two neighbourhoods. Led by textile artist Sonia Tuttiett, we've started working together since May to create a series of embroidery 'postcards' sharing the stories and objects that have meant something to us over the past year. In July, we'll be visiting each neighbourhood and completing the embroidered postcards together with our 'stitch-pals' across the river, with a final exhibition and celebration at the Clapham Park Cube on July 31st. Clapham Park resident and writer Thérèse Mullan will be working with everyone to create a collection of stories that will accompany the project as a book.

We've already started but there may still be a few spots left so please get in touch ASAP if you're interested.

The group is open to anyone living in the Clapham Park area and we welcome all ages and abilities. Our youngest member is 10 and our oldest is... well, she won't tell us :) We meet every Saturday from 11am at the Clapham Park Cube until July 31st (with a field trip to Newham on July 10th).

SW4 COMMUNITY GARDENS: “A SMALL PROJECT, WITH BIG HEARTS”

Interview with Anna from the SW4 Community Gardens

Who are the SW4 gardeners?

SW4 Gardeners are new non-profit collective. We are a small project with big hearts, bringing together an amazing group of people growing flowers and food in our communal garden in Clapham Park and now Stockwell.

How have you and your neighbors rallied together in the last year?

We started gardening at the beginning of the first lockdown in 2020, initially as a hobby, but we soon realised that through gardening we were able to create something positive and put aside everything that was going on around us.

We used our spare time to come together, as gardening allowed us to social distance. We then joined other volunteering projects, such as painting hearts at The National Covid Memorial Wall.

It really helped offset the loneliness, depression and anxiety many of us faced during a period of quarantine and isolation. Recently, we became registered officially as the SW4 Community Gardeners which is, a cooperation between gardeners at Tressider House in Clapham Park alongside Edrich House in Stockwell.

What have you got planned in the coming months?

We have also just launched a Go Fund Me, and are hoping to raise money for two benches, one for Edrich House the other for Tresidder House, and gardening supplies so we can carry on expanding on what we have achieved so far, as well as a fundraiser for Cancer Research on Sunday 25th July. We hope to see you there!

Save the Dates:

👉 To All who support our new gardening project , we would like to express our appreciation. The help arrived in many different ways: helping hands to set up the fundraising event, providing gazebos, tables, donating unwanted gifts for raffle tickets , donations on GoFundMe page for a good cause, donating plants and three tones of soil.

It would be a long list of individuals. We are so grateful to them. I will try my best to send thank you to each of you and you know, who you are, lovely people.

We also get support from Metropolitan, Pinacle and CC Bandstand Beds.

The celebration wouldn't happen without any of you. Thank you a million to members and supporters.

5 WAYS TO CONNECT WITH NATURE IF YOU LIVE IN THE CITY

FROM BLACK MINDS MATTER @BLACKMINDSMATTER.UK

VISIT A COMMUNITY GARDEN:

Learn food growing and gardening techniques at a community garden. Both practices promote mindfulness and are usually done in groups which can help foster a sense of belonging and connectedness, whilst also improving your mood.

TRY EXERCISING OUTDOORS:

This can include walking, jogging, cycling or using park gym equipment. These types of activities foster increased awareness of the natural world and are often recommended for reducing stress, anxiety, depression and anger.

JOIN AN OUTDOOR COLLECTIVE OR CLUB:

Group activities in nature are just as effective as solo ones in terms of boosting mood, reducing stress and improving overall mental outlook. Some of our favorite outdoor safe spaces are Black Girls Hike (@bgh_uk) and Flock Together (@flocktogether.world)

BRING THE OUTDOORS IN:

Studies have shown that indoor plants can improve concentration, creativity and productivity, as well as reduce stress levels and boost your mood. Try adding some low maintenance houseplants to your living space to boost your sense of connection to the outdoors.

GET OUT OF THE CITY:

There are loads of beautiful green spaces to explore often just outside of cities. So don't be afraid to explore.

LOCAL BUSINESS IN FOCUS

KATA KATA: “NOT JUST A RESTAURANT, WE ARE A COMMUNITY HUB”

KataKata originates from the Cameroonian dialect of Douala, meaning to be creative in overcoming challenges in the face of difficulty. This is what KataKata represents, our culture and character all stem from this mindset, even down to our furniture, people donate and we give second-hand items new life. A healthy meal doesn't need to break your bank account, it's about being efficient and creative with the resources you have, this is KataKata.

In this month's edition, we wanted to turn the spotlight on the local cafe, community hub and community gardens, KataKata.

Located just a short walk away from Clapham Park on Brixton Hill, KataKata is a hidden treasure specialising in vegan and vegetarian food, including galettes and crepes, as well as immune-boosting smoothies and juices Monday to Sunday. After launching an employment programme with Black Thrive earlier this year, they are now turning their sights to establishing a member-based community food hub later this summer. So whether you want to relax with a crepe, attend a yoga class or roll up your sleeves at the community garden, KataKata is the place.

RENAMING NEW BUILDINGS IN HONOUR OF DONNA C HENRY, A DEDICATED COMMUNITY CAMPAIGNER

Words by Diana Morris, ex-local councilor for Thornton

Donna C Henry, who died suddenly aged 66 in August last year, was a well known face in the Clapham Park area.

Donna had settled in Clapham Park having spent her childhood in both St Kitts and the north west of England. In the late 1990s, Donna was one of a group of residents who brought the then problems of Clapham Park to the attention of Lambeth council. They persuaded the council to choose the estate as its New Deal for Communities (NDC) area. Donna joined the board of Clapham Park Project (CPP), the NDC organisation established in 2000, soon becoming vice-chair and later chair, a position she held conscientiously for 15 years. By then, she had steered CPP's transition to charity status. CPP, under Donna's leadership, promoted the transfer of the Clapham Park housing stock to a newly-formed housing association, supported by a residents' ballot. This lay the ground for the regeneration programme that is still taking place today under Metropolitan Thames Valley.

Donna was totally dedicated to the wellbeing of the residents of Clapham Park. She devoted herself to trying to ensure that the regeneration programme would remain true to the community's vision for the area. Throughout all the ups and downs of the regeneration programme, Donna remained hopeful of eventual success, maintaining her sense of humour and good spirits. She will be greatly missed. Her services were recognised with a MBE in 2011 and one of the new estate roads is to be named in her honour.

ONLINE PUPIL GRADUATION

MEANWHILE USE IN CLAPHAM PARK

AS REGENERATION WORKS ARE PROGRESSING ACROSS CLAPHAM PARK, MTVH STAYS COMMITTED TO PROVIDING HIGH QUALITY PUBLIC SPACES AND FACILITIES. ALONGSIDE THE CUBE COMMUNITY CENTRE, WHICH WILL REOPEN AGAIN SHORTLY, WE ARE MOVING AHEAD WITH DEVELOPING A MEANWHILE PROJECT TO PROVIDE MUCH-NEEDED SPACES FOR LOCAL RESIDENTS TO GET INVOLVED, ENJOY THEMSELVES, OR USE AS A BASE FOR THEIR GROWING BUSINESSES.

MTVH are currently working with Meanwhile Space and Jan Kattein Architects to complete a feasibility study to look at potentially creating a temporary commercial scheme on the West side of Kings Avenue. This would bring interest and activity to that space in the years before the permanent shops are built there. In recent weeks, we invited residents to take part in a survey to help shape the types of spaces this could include. We had a brilliant response, so thanks to everyone who took part and shared their views. The range of ideas that people have shared have got us really excited. Potential uses include community growing space, safe and pleasant outdoor meeting spaces, a café in the sun (or under cover once the 5 minutes of summer is over!), affordable workspaces to accommodate a variety of small businesses and makers and close ties with the services and activities at The Cube.

What's next? At this stage, this is just a feasibility study, but the ideas and enthusiasm shown by the survey participants show that this could be a really exciting addition to the neighbourhood. We are now working on how we might be able to bring some of those ideas to life, and will share more with you in the coming months.

MAJOR REGENERATION WORK DISRUPTIONS

As a major regeneration project, Clapham Park has a district heating network. This supplies heat and hot water to most of the existing new buildings and all of the future ones from a central energy centre. Pinnacle Power and With Energy are the specialists who install and operate the system at Clapham Park. They are currently busy working on connecting to the homes Kind are building on Kings Avenue to the network, which will mean some disruption for road users for several weeks:

What: One lane at a time closed on Kings Avenue for installation of underground heat network pipes.

When: Starting mid-June and completing mid-July

Please note that works will then progress in July toward Parkfield Road and then onto Headlam Road. Signage will be in display in the affected areas.

WHAT IS COMING UP NEXT?

There are further connections running round the site at present.

One lane will be closed at time of Kings Avenue to allow for the District Heat Network to cross this road. These works are due to commence mid June and be completed by early July. Works will then progress towards Parkfield Road and Headlam Road later on.

YOU SAID, WE DID

AS PART OF UNDERSTANDING OF OUR RESIDENTS PRIORITIES AND NEEDS IN CLAPHAM PARK WE INVITED YOU TO HAVE YOUR SAY ON A NUMBER OF FACTORS RELATING TO YOUR COMMUNITY. OVER THE COURSE OF 2020 AND THE BEGINNING OF 2021.

In total we have managed to engage with 19 young people and over 100 households over the course of our listening work to date and have therefore been able to action concerns presented to us by our residents via different listening platforms. As a result of you having your say, here is what we have been able to do:

Our young people would like more access to entertainment activities particularly related to sports

The consultations conducted with our young people were crucial in shaping the new summer, half-term and extra-curricular activities that were produced thereafter with partners including Elevating Success and Code 7. With young people highlighting their desire to access more sports-associated activities, the most recent half-term schedule included Pro Touch SA (PTSA) outdoor youth and sports camp for local children aged between 7 to 14.

9 young people were sign-posted for registry to one or more of the said activities following expression of interest as a result of consultation work.

Gaps in service included a need for mental well-being support (with 1-2-1 online support being deemed most beneficial)

Residents that expressed that mental well-being was a concern then took part in further consultation to see what support services would be best suited with the majority stating 1-2-1, online based services would be most helpful. 10 Residents were signposted to local, online services such as: Friends in need, Southwark Women's Forum and Open Minds. 1 Resident was actively supported with processing a necessary referral.
